旧陸軍佐世保要塞司令部跡

Remains of the Imperial Japanese Army
Sasebo Fortress Headquarters

佐世保に海軍の軍港と鎮守府が置かれると、その防備のため陸軍佐世保要塞が設立され、これを統括する要塞司令部が光月町に置かれた。要塞の設置に伴い佐世保市周辺は要塞地帯に指定され、要塞地帯法により様々な活動が規制された。特に写真の撮影等は厳しく規制され、山並みが写る場合は高さがわからないように修正しなければならなかった。平時の要塞司令部ではそのような写真の検閲や許可申請の受理など事務仕事が多く、司令部として要塞を指揮するのは戦時のみであった。昭和11年（1936）に佐世保要塞は長崎要塞に統合され、佐世保要塞司令部は廃止された。

After Sasebo port was designated as a naval port and Sasebo Naval Station was established, the Imperial Japanese Army Sasebo Fortress was founded to defend the port and its related facilities, and its headquarters office was built at Kogetsu-cho. Along with the foundation of Sasebo Fortress, Sasebo city and its surrounding areas were designated as a fortified zone and various activities began to be regulated by the fortified zone law. Especially taking photos was strictly regulated. If mountain ranges were seen on a photo, the photo had to be retouched to prevent the height of the mountains from being known. During peace time, the headquarters was busy with paperwork such as photo censorship and acceptance of applications. Its original duty to control the fortress was carried out only during wartime. In 1936, Sasebo Fortress was integrated into Nagasaki Fortress and its headquarters was closed.
