Non-Burnable waste

Collected
once a month

Use designated garbage bags

Any item larger than the L-size(45ℓ) designated bag is “Oversized” waste. (See p.2)

Please double-bag your waste with transparent bags so that you don't break the designated bag by sharp edges.

You can put the following items all together in one designated bag.

To prevent accidents

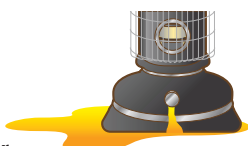

Broken or sharp items

Wrap them in paper, put them in a bag and write “キケン” (Danger) on it, and put into the designated garbage bag.

Aerosol cans, Stoves and Fan heaters

If there is a large amount of kerosene remaining, pump it out and consult a gas station for pickup.

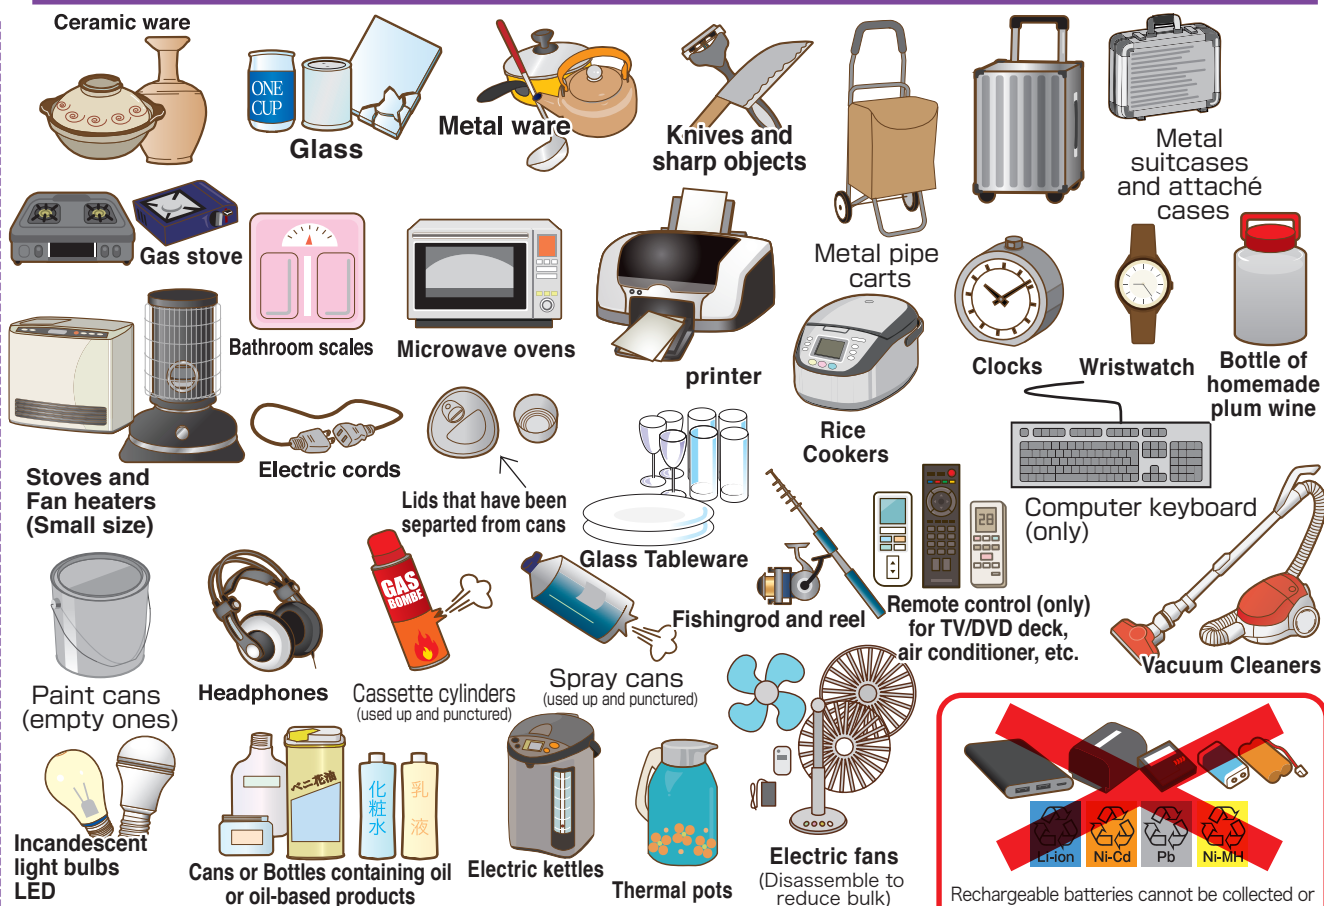

Before disposal, spray cans and cassette stove gas cylinders should always be used up, drained of their contents, and then punctured outdoors in a well-ventilated area free from fire.

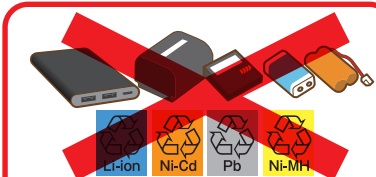

Wastes no longer than 1 meter are acceptable as “Non-burnable”. Use the L-size designated bag for such waste as umbrellas or single golf clubs.

Examples of Non-burnable wastes

Notes on how to dispose of garbage

How to dispose of waste paper

Please make sure to sort the various types of waste paper appropriately!

Paper wastes other than those on page 7 are also recyclable.
Please sort as shown above and reduce your burnable garbage.

Attention

Most paper larger than business cards are recyclable, but put the following paper out as "Burnable".

Carbon paper, non-carbon paper
Iron-on seal paper,
synthetic slip paper

Duplicate forms, receipts

Thick postcards

Notifications from banks etc

Coated paper and processed paper

Sealed and lined beverage cartons, paper cups, paper plates, photos, albums, inkjet photopaper, alcoholic beverage

Alcoholic beverages in paper containers with a silver inside layer iron-on transfers/fabric paper and such.

Paper that has been stamped with gold or other metals

Paper that contains gold or silver

Dirty or smelly paper

Wet paper, paper boxes for incense sticks, detergent, or pizza, etc.

Drain and dispose of food scraps!

① First of all, do not get wet.

Vegetable peels from cooking should be placed directly into plastic bags to avoid getting them wet!

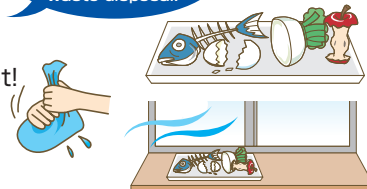

② Drain water thoroughly

If something gets wet, give it a squeeze!

③ Dry before discarding.

Placing them in a well-ventilated area will reduce both moisture and weight!

The following three points are important for food waste disposal.

Caution!

○ For safe disposal of mercury using items.

In order to avoid breakage, put them in a box.
Label the item name: "Fluorescent lamp", "Mercury Manometer" and "Mercury Thermometer", for example.
Mercury using wastes from households are "Recyclable".

○ Empty spray cans before disposal

If gas remains, spray cans may explode in the fragmentation machine.

Please vent cans before disposal, in the open air, and empty them completely.

Spray cans are "Non-burnable".

○ Sasebo city does not collect rechargeable batteries.

You cannot leave them in the collection station.

The clean centers do not accept them, either.

For disposal of rechargeable batteries, use collection boxes at mass-electric-stores or consult your retail dealer.

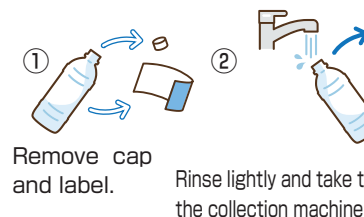

About PET Bottles Recycle plastic bottles into PET bottles!

In the past, PET bottles were molded or transformed into other products such as sheets, films, and fibers, but it is difficult to recycle these products again, and most of them have been disposed of by incineration or other means. On the other hand, the bottle-to-bottle approach, in which PET bottles are recycled into PET bottles again, makes it possible to recycle PET bottles as a resource semi-permanently. This reduces the amount of resources used and contributing to CO2 emissions reduction.

Seven-Eleven has placed collection machines for PET bottles in its stores and is working on a bottle-to-bottle initiative.

Sasebo City is also cooperating with this initiative to make effective use of resources. (Some stores do not have collection machines.)

The procedure is the same as for disposing of them at a resource station. Removed caps and labels are Burnable Garbage. You can also earn points with your nanaco card.

Utilization of unwanted household items

If you dispose of it as "garbage", you will be charged a "fee", but if you reuse or recycle it, you may be able to sell it.
If you throw it away, it's "garbage", but if someone uses it, it's a "resource". It's an initiative that is kind to both the environment and your wallet.

Dressers, cupboards, tables, chairs, bookshelves electrical appliances suits, shoes, children's clothing, stoneware, stuffed animals, stationery, precious metals, brand-name goods
